

General Architecture

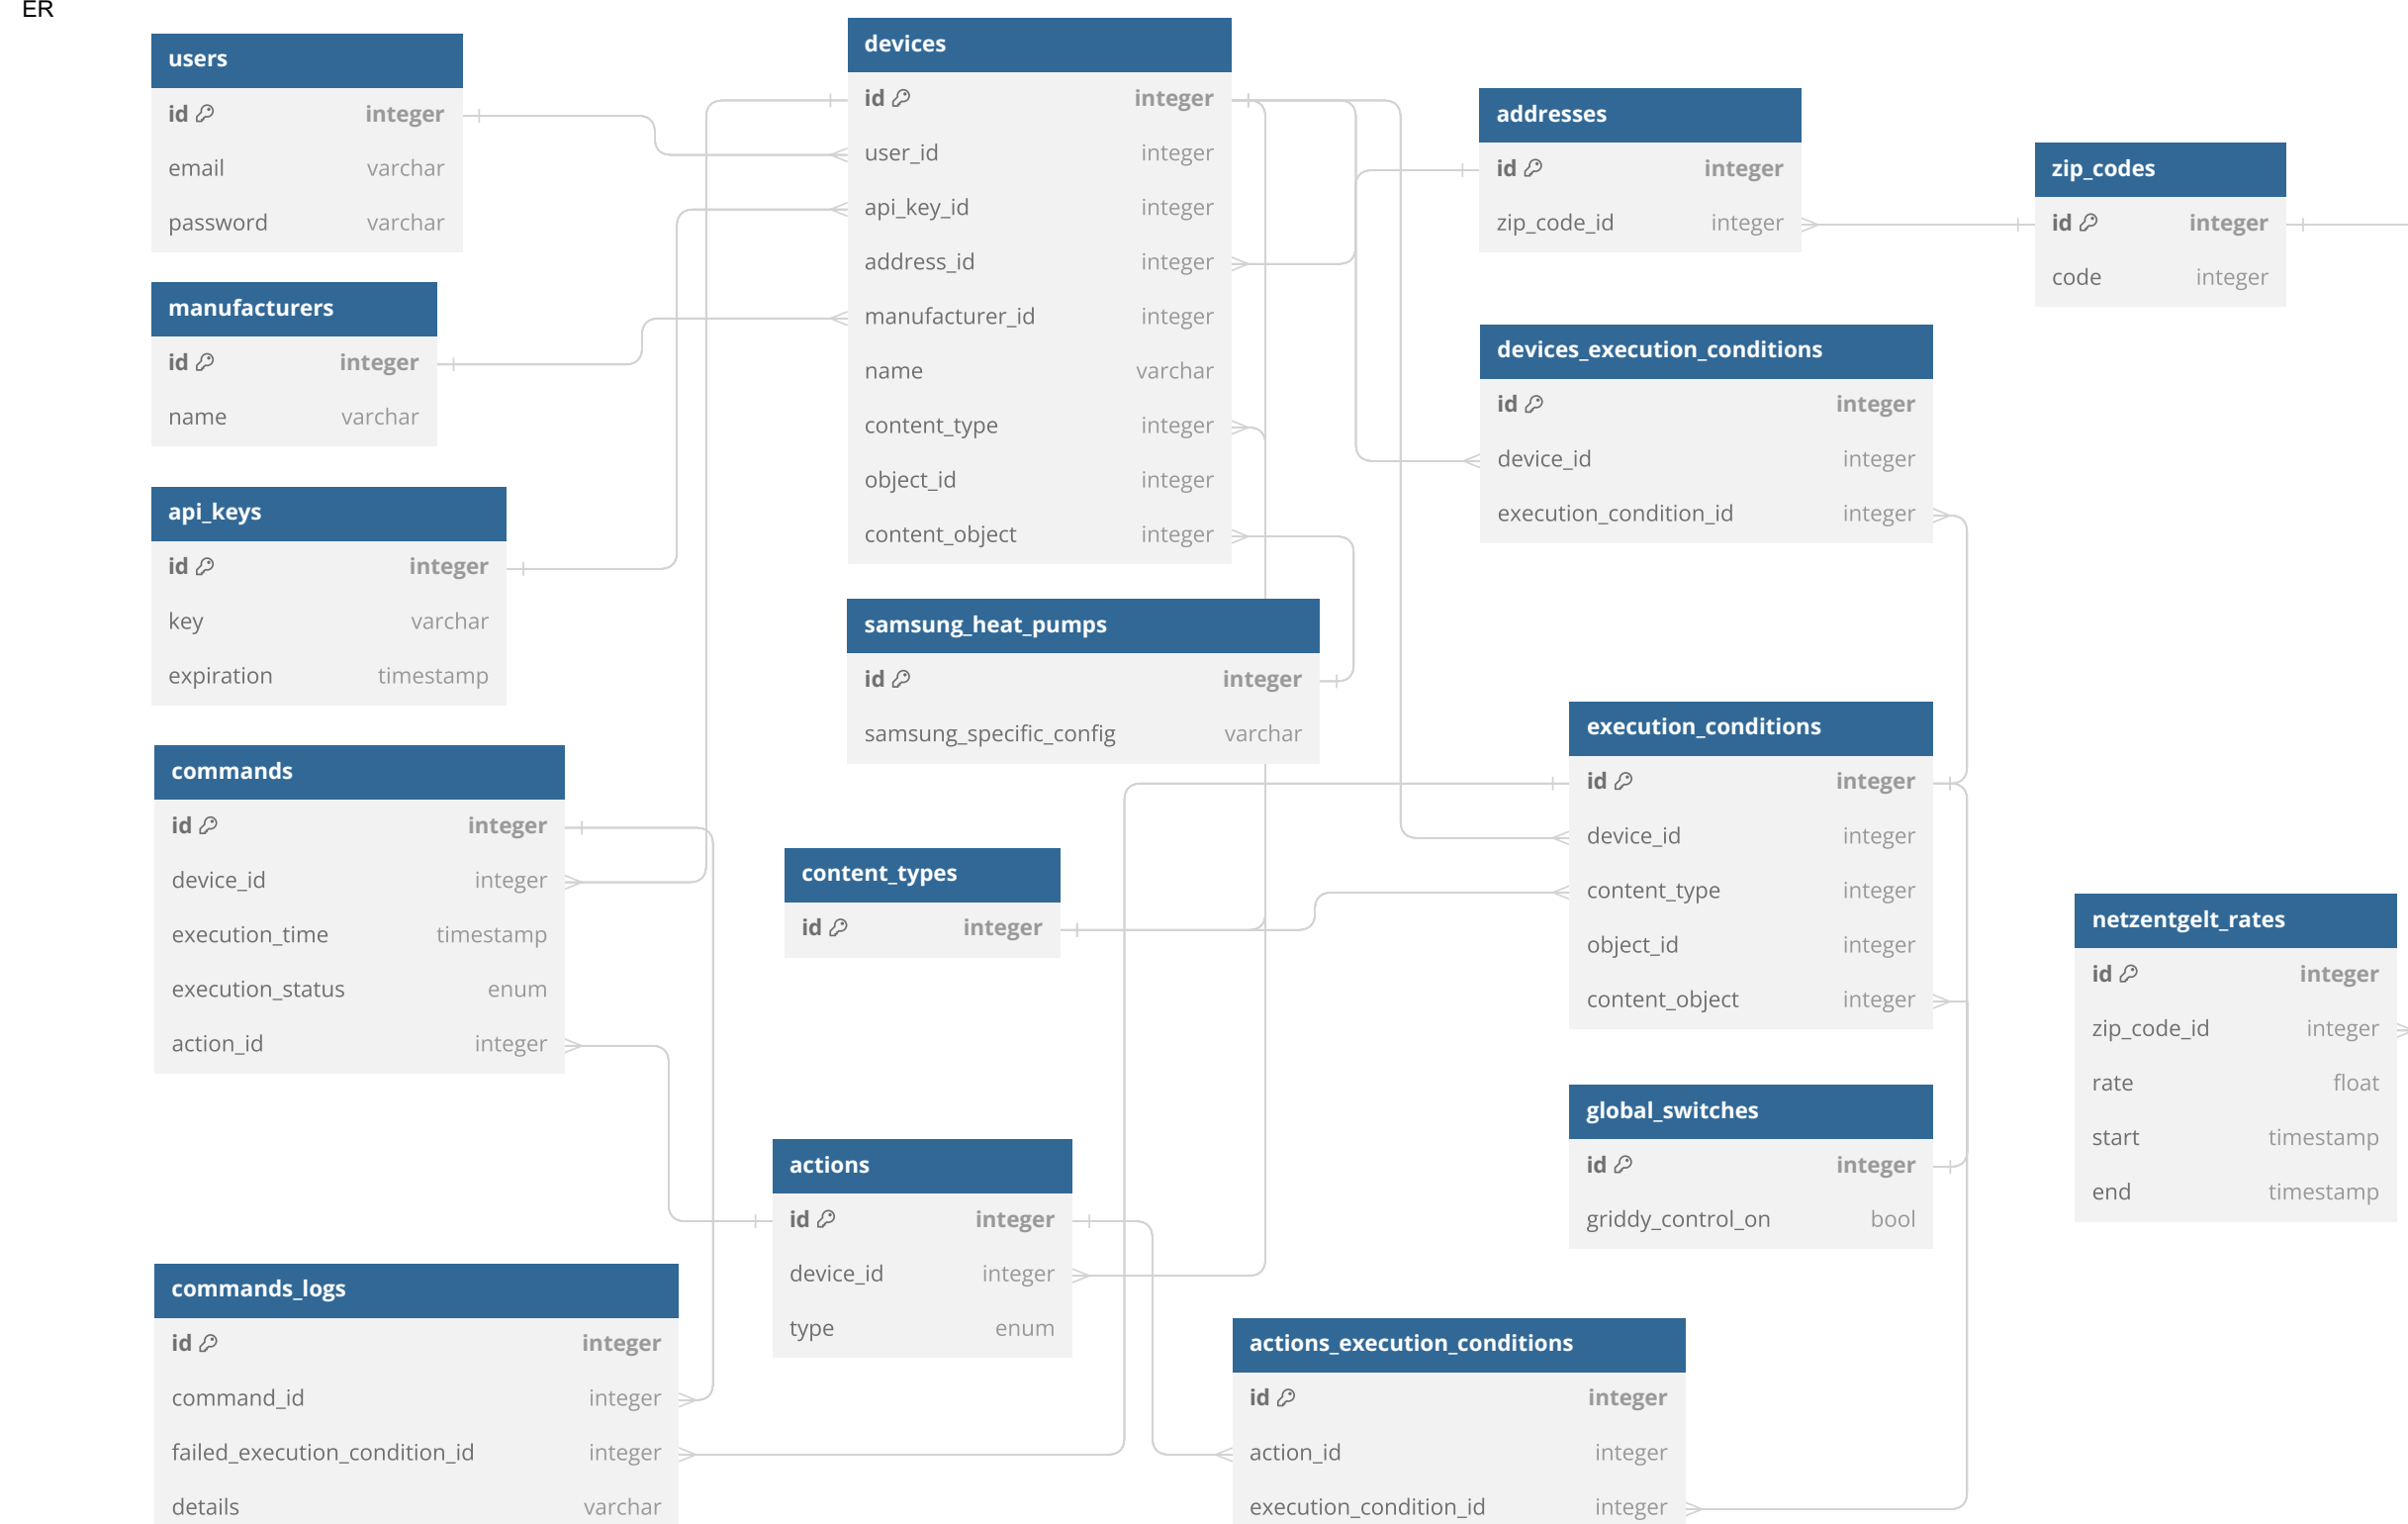

Griddy Control Process

v1 v2

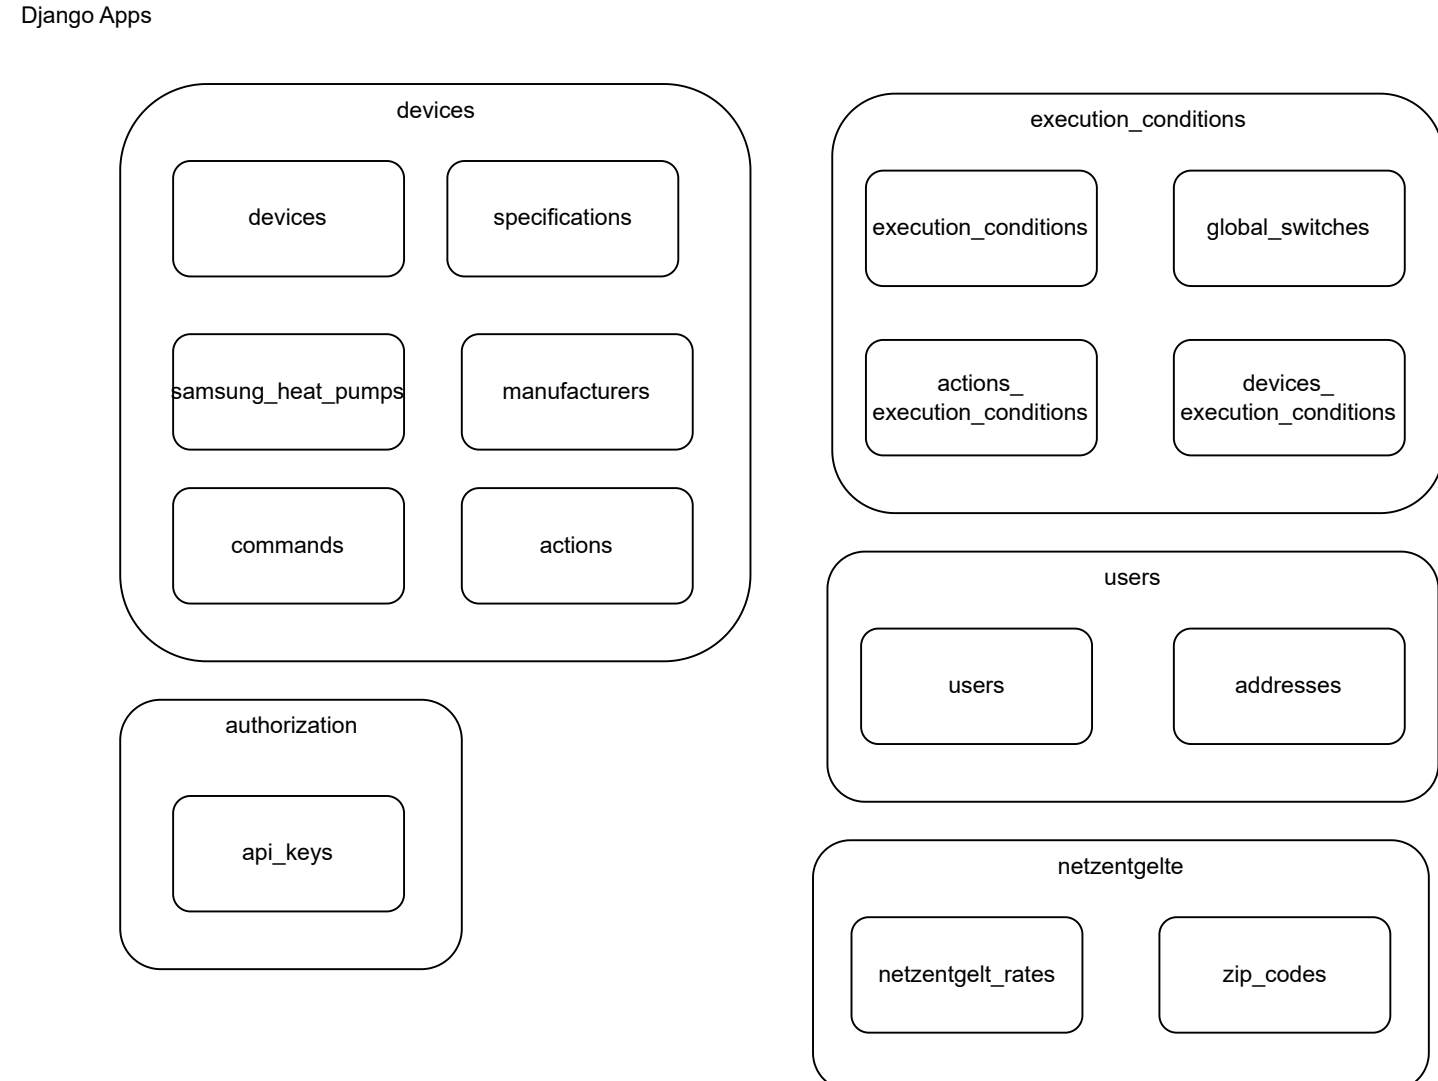

ER

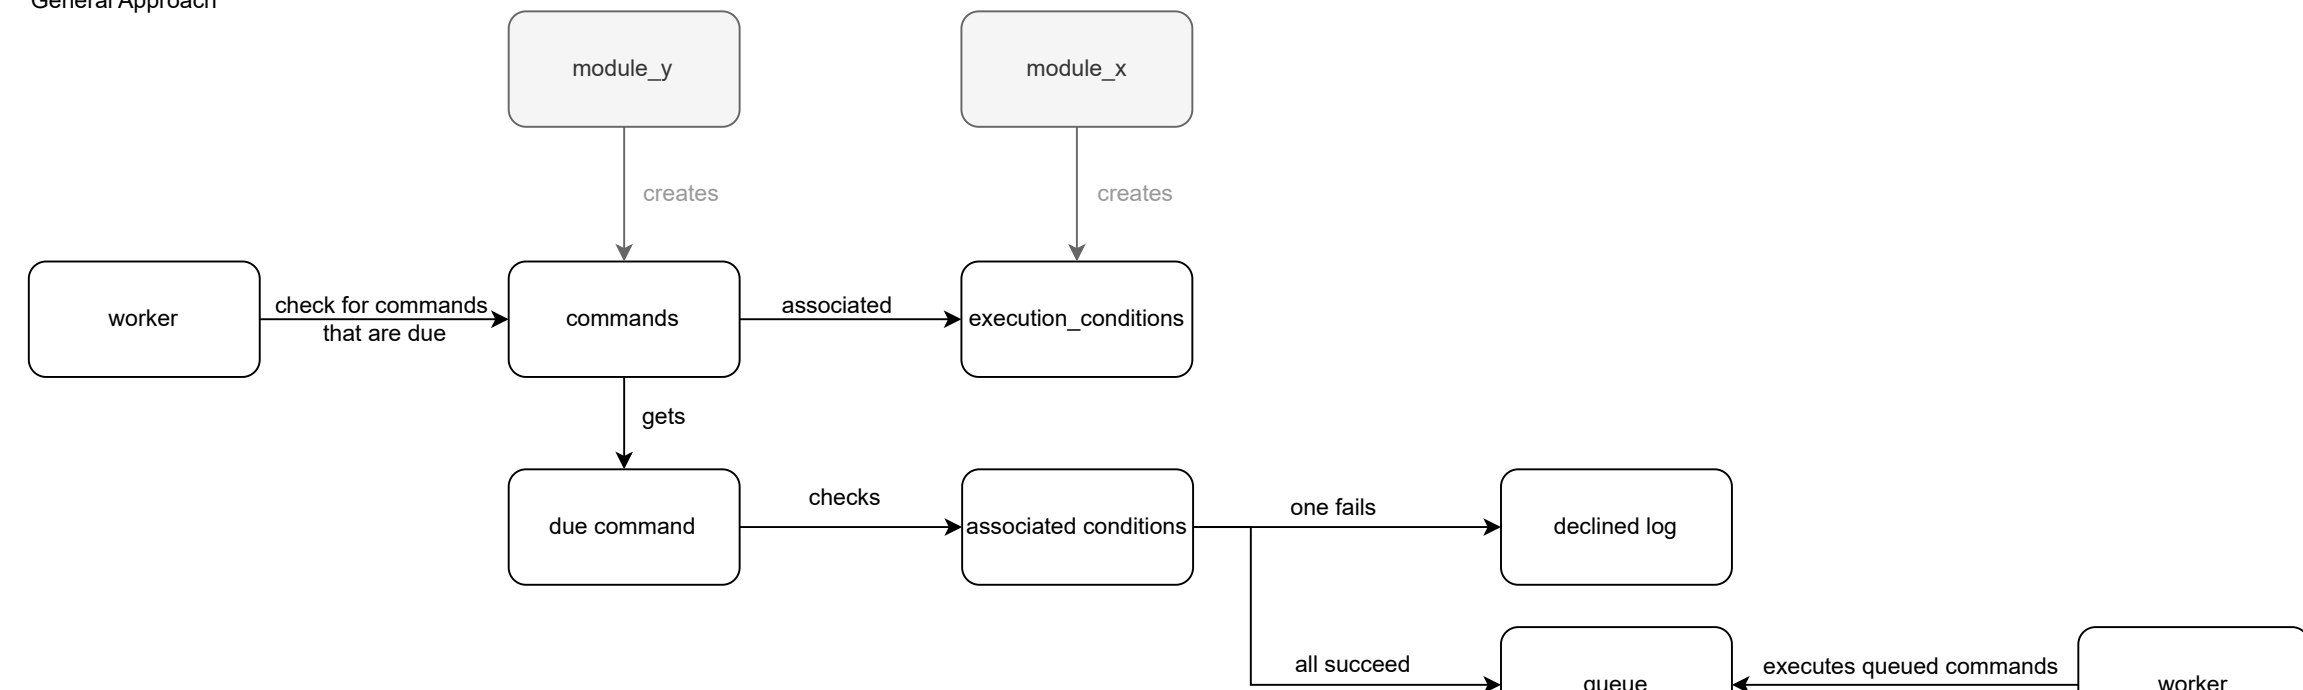

API for specific devices and execution conditions

Django Apps

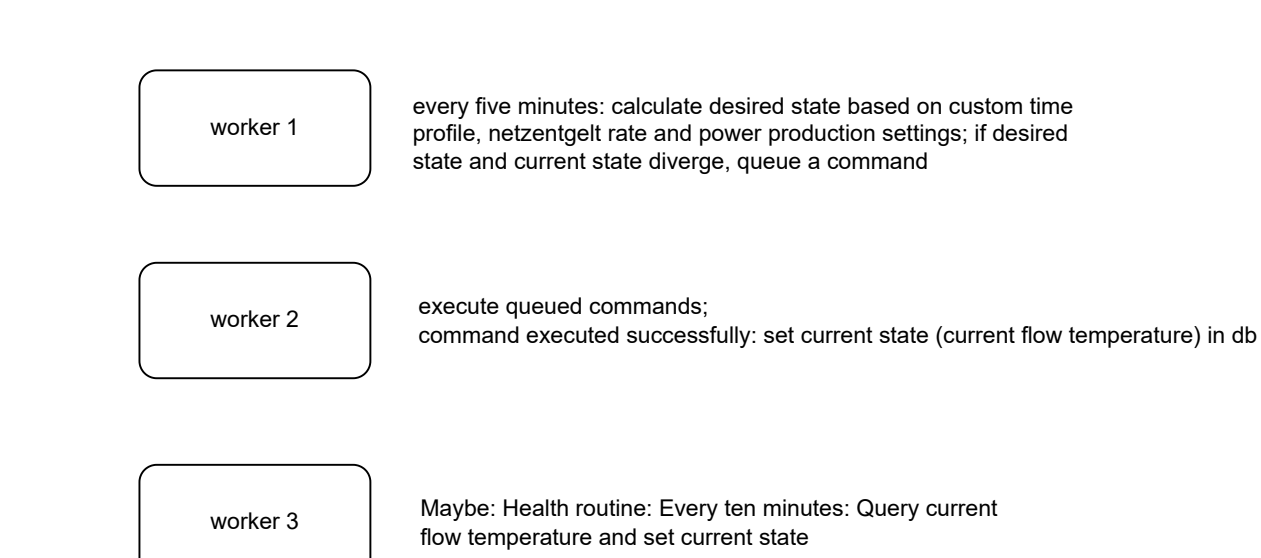

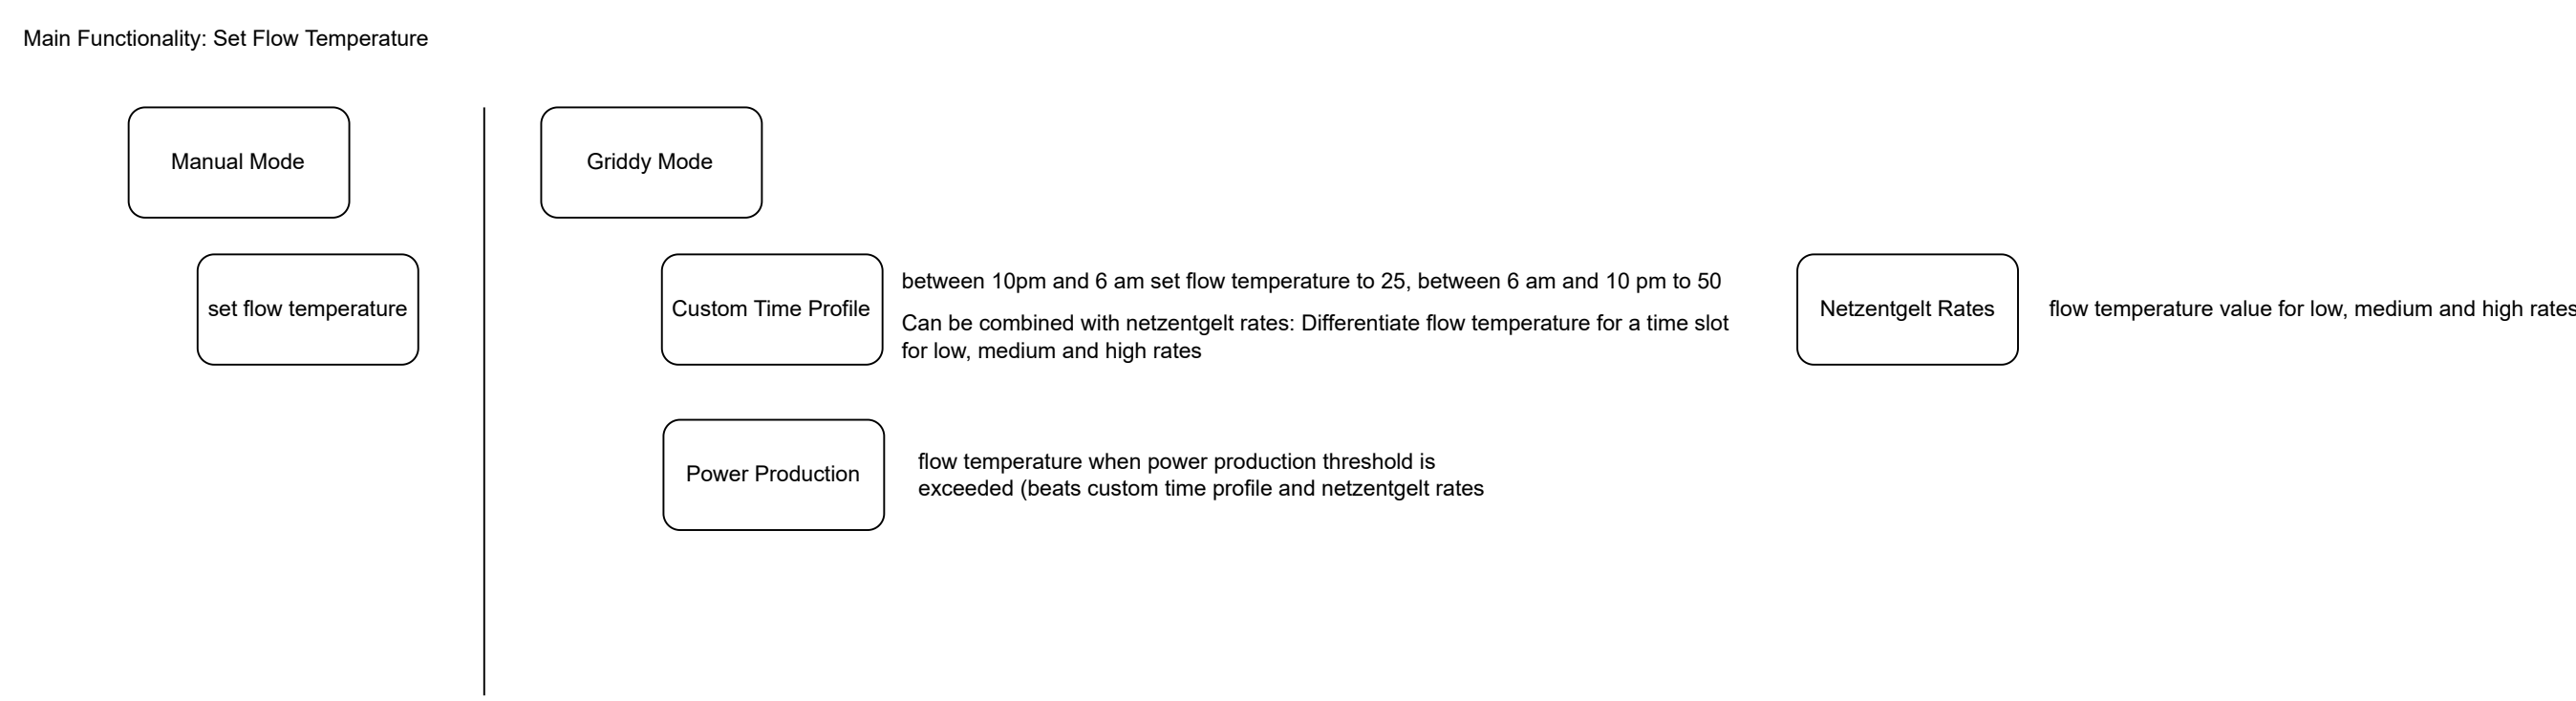

General Approach

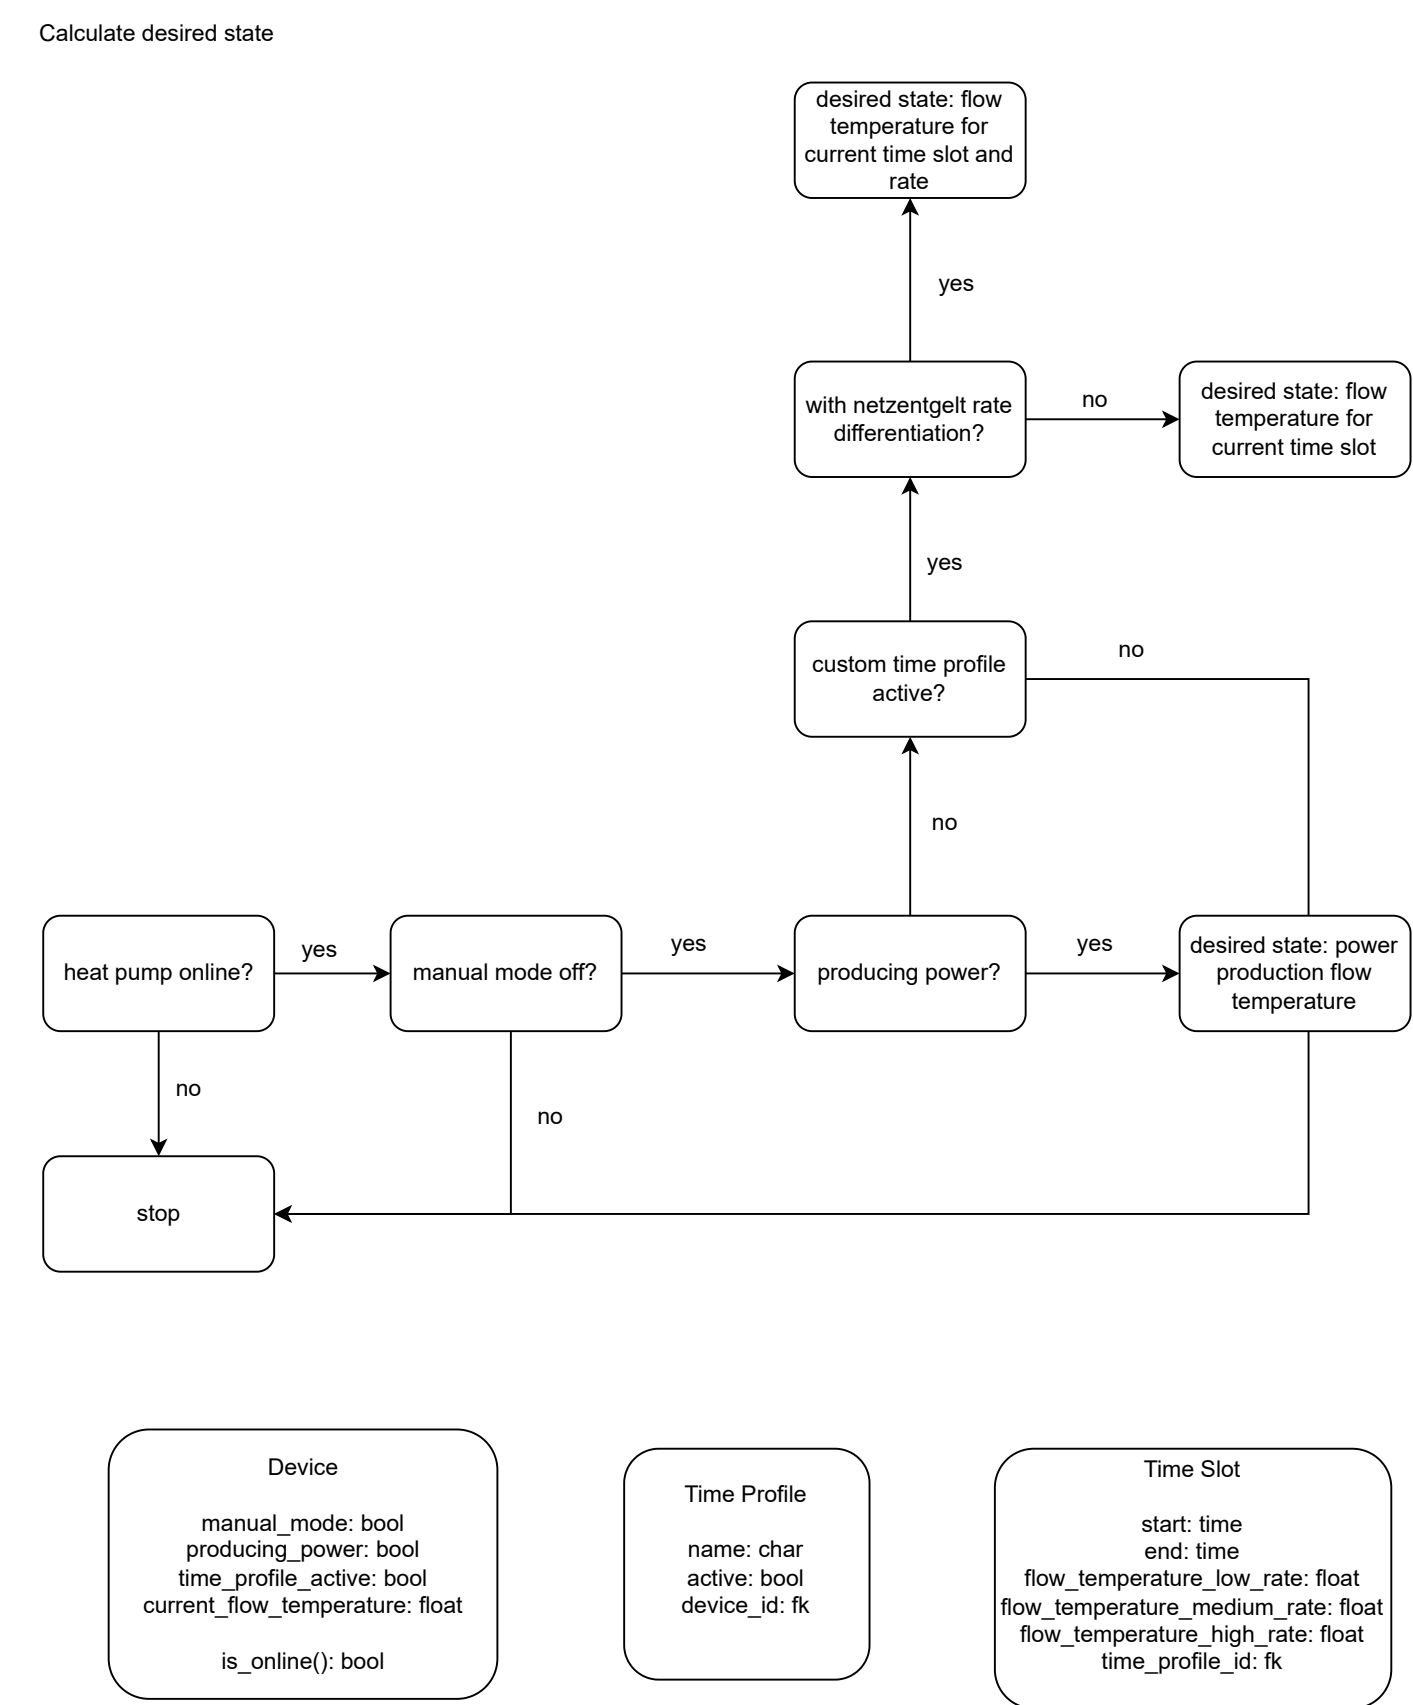

Second Approach

Main Functionality: Set Flow Temperature

Calculate desired state

Modules

If modules of a heat pump should be controlled independently from each other (eg setting different values in the time profile for water and heating modules), each module has to be represented as an own heat pump instance